

Multi-Sport Camping Adventures

Small Groups (10 max) • Great Guides • Top of the line Equipment • Excellent Meals • Active Experiences

Ao Alaska Arctic Adventure (7 Days)

The Alaska Arctic Adventure travels into the most remote region accessible by road in Alaska.

Highlights Include

6 nights camping

Soak in Chena Hot Springs

Travel above the Arctic Circle, through the Brooks Range to the North Slope

Access the Arctic Ocean

Excellent hiking throughout (including the famed Arctic National Wildlife Refuge)

2012 Alaska Arctic Adventure Itinerary and Dates

Trips marked * begin in Prudhoe Bay and travel south to Fairbanks. Not included: internal flight to or from Prudhoe Bay or Fairbanks. Budget from $350 (To or from Fairbanks) to $500 (To or from Anchorage).

Day 1:	Chena Hot Springs	Departs Sundays:
Days 2-6:	Yukon River, Arctic Circle, Brooks Range, Arctic National Wildlife Refuge and the North Slope	7/22, 7/29*
Day 7:	To the Arctic Ocean	$1245 per person
		Please Note: Dates marked with * will be run in reverse, beginning at the Arctic Ocean.

Add one of our other tours to the Arctic Adventure tour to form a combination tour you will never forget:

Classic Alaskan / Arctic Adventure Combo - 14 days

Wildland Glacier / Arctic Adventure Combo - 14 days

Classic Alaskan / Wildland Glacier / Arctic Adventure Combo - 21 days

Alaska Arctic Adventure Highlights: Travel north of Fairbanks to explore the northern boreal forest and for a soak in the rejuvenating Chena Hot Springs, a hot spring resort internationally recognized for its efforts to promote energy sustainability. Next we are off across the mighty Yukon River, north of the Arctic Circle and through the Brooks Range. There will be fantastic opportunities for hiking throughout including within the famed (and controversial) Arctic National Wildlife Refuge.

What's Included: A full time Alaska Outdoors guide, top of the line camping equipment, all but 2 meals (taken at restaurants), transportation throughout, park entrance fees and specified included activities.

Included Activities

- Entrance to Chena Hot Springs
- Travel above the Arctic Circle
- Tour the Prudhoe Bay oil facilities and access the Arctic Ocean
- Excellent hiking opportunities throughout including the famed Arctic National Wildlife Refuge

Detailed Itinerary Description

Day 1: Chena Hot Springs

Today we'll travel north of Fairbanks (Alaska's 2nd largest city) to Chena Hot Springs. En route we'll experience one of the best locations in all of Alaska to view moose. This afternoon we'll go for a hike near Chena to explore the fascinating geologic formations of the area. Tonight, we'll camp at Chena Hot Springs, a peaceful natural hot springs set within the spruce and birch forest typical of interior Alaska. Chena Hot Springs is also the home of the first geothermal power plant in Alaska. This evening we can enjoy a soothing soak in the natural pools and perhaps a drink in the ice bar, the first year round ice structure in the world.

Days 2-6: The Arctic

Loosened up after a relaxing soak at Chena we'll be ready to travel north to the Arctic! We'll spend our next days traveling north into the most remote region accessible by road in Alaska. We'll cross the Yukon River, the Arctic Circle, and the mighty Brooks Range, on to the treeless plain of the North Slope. We'll camp along the way with opportunities for remote hiking and outstanding wildlife viewing. Expansive wilderness will grace our entire trip.

Our daily schedule will be dictated by Mother Nature with an emphasis on experiencing the most that we can in the limited time we have.

Note: North of Chena Hot Springs facilities are fairly limited.

Our schedule will go something like this:

Day 2:

We'll depart Chena in the morning and head north, traversing the rolling green hills that stretch all the way to the Yukon River. Never covered by glaciers, this ice-free corridor served as the main highway of the Asiatic migration of ice age pilgrims such as the woolly mammoth, musk ox and North America's first inhabitants. This afternoon we'll hike into the White Mountains and enjoy our lunch on a beautiful ridgeline with expansive views. This vast landscape conjures visions of Beringia (the land bridge to Russia) before us and beckons us further north. Later we will cross the mighty Yukon River and make our camp as the foothills of the magnificent Brooks Range loom ahead.

Day 3:

Deep into the northern forest now, we will spend the day searching out the modern inhabitants of America's last frontier; beavers, arctic fox, wolves, lynx and both black and brown bear all call this area home, while the skies are crossed by peregrine falcons, golden eagles and Sand hill cranes. The primitive road maneuvers an intrepid path amongst miles of fireweed, lakes and unforgettable mountain skylines. After a visit to the brand-new arctic interpretive visitor center we will make our camp just south of the Brooks Range.

Day 4:

We will start the day with a visit to the charming village of Wiseman, once the site of hardscrabble gold miners and now the home to a couple dozen souls who live off the vast wilderness that surrounds them. Later, we will cross the continental tree line and the incredible Brooks Range, over Alaska's highest road pass. Once across the Brooks Range we are in the treeless tundra of the arctic slope, a place like no other on Earth. Within this amazing landscape we will set our camp for two nights on the border of the fabled Arctic National Wildlife Refuge, ANWR. This afternoon we will hike under the midnight sun.

Day 5:

Today there will be opportunity to hike into ANWR, where 300 million years of geologic history have created an enormous salt lick attracting animals from throughout the region. Amongst this stunning boundless landscape we will seek out the herds of Dall sheep. Free of the dense north woods, we will dine in the endless light of the midnight sun.

Day 6:

As the continent tapers north towards the Arctic Ocean we find ourselves in a timeless landscape teeming with life and defined by migration. Caribou herds that number in the thousands traverse our path en route to the waters of the arctic, while hundreds of kettle ponds host migratory waterfowl from around the globe. Truly a birder's paradise, we will search for tundra swans, eiders and long tailed jaegers, to name a few. Near the northern terminus of the road, we will savor one last night in the great north. Lit by the midnight sun, the far north is place of sight and sound truly apart from the modern world and an experience you will not soon forget.

Day 7: Prudhoe Bay and the Arctic Ocean

On our final day we will arrive at the end of the road in Prudhoe Bay and will explore the Prudhoe Bay oil facilities and access the Arctic Ocean (anyone for a dip? It's been done!).

Participants can then fly from Prudhoe Bay (day 7) to the location of their choice (not included in the tour price). Return flights to Fairbanks are approximately $350 and flights to Anchorage are approximately $400. Other destinations are available including Barrow, the most northern settlement in the U.S.

Trips that operate in reverse require a flight to Prudhoe Bay the morning of day 1 or earlier.

Please contact our office with questions and assistance with making flight reservations.